GET FIT!

Submitted by Cheryl Christy

Kathy Laverty's Quinn and Honey and Cheryl Christy's Harry and Molly earned their AKC Fit Dog Bronze titles on August 3, 2023. They met the requirements for the title by participating in a community walk/run and also documented walks. They completed the Strut Your Mutt Walk to benefit the Voices of the Trumbull Pound Dogs at Mosquito Lake on June 10th. The documented walks required 75 minutes a week for 8 weeks for a total of 600 minutes. They walked above and beyond this for a total of 974 minutes.

Since then they have now completed the requirements for the AKC Fit Dog Silver titles and have just submitted their paperwork to AKC.

Special thank you to Karen Wisler for becoming certified as an AKC Fit Dog evaluator and also doing what was necessary to get YABTC recognized as an AKC Fit Dog Club.

Blessings of Brags!

From Gaynor Ibbotson

Mr. Darcy earned his second Scent work title "Novice Buried" at YABTC! He got four Q's in total, two in Novice Exterior, one Novice interior and Novice Buried. This was his third trial and yes he is smiling in the photo! Thanks all!

Thanks to Laura bell for revvin him up before some of his runs. He mostly loves seeing all his friends and socializing!

There were alot of nice runs this weekend! I got to see many of the YABTC members qualify with their dogs. The show went very well. What a great group of people!

From Marla Belzowski

Both PT and Destiny, finished up their Scent Work Novice overall titles at our November Scent Work Trial. PT picked up those last two Interior Novice Search Legs quickly with 4th place placements for each Q.

From Yvette Shipman

Tinkers and Dipsy Doo aka Gypsy had fun at the Dec 1,2,3 agility trial at YABTC. Gypsy just had one run on Saturday finishing her MXP4. Tink ran each day and earned two master standard preferred Q's and a FAST Q all with first places. I was also the trial secretary and did not have my head in the game, but was very happy for what we got!

Destiny got her Buried quickly, then squeaked it out at the last minute for that last Novice Exterior Element leg.

Glory also picked up a few more Elite Qualifying legs in each of the advance elements.

Considering their momma, Ella, was due with their half-sibling puppies and my head wasn't in the game, overall it was a good weekend and as always Kim and Sandy did a great job keeping the trial moving along and the whole Scentwork Committee and our Building Cleaning Team did a fabulous job of set up and tear down.

Tazzie did pretty good at the YABTC scent trial this weekend going 9 out of 10 with a couple placements. We are working on our advanced elite titles and have a few more to go but we are well on our way.

As Always Perri, Kathy and the Kitchen Crew kept us fueled for the weekend.

Brags (cont'd)....

From Sandy Irish

Recipient of Master Agility Champion Titles

Chris Gesing and Spirit were presented with a cake at the December agility trial in celebration of Spirit's Master Agility Champion (MACH) title. Chris and Spirit earned a MACH on August 5, 2023.

Please congratulate Chris on this great achievement!

From Kim Colella

Itoba Follow That Dream "Gracie" earned her AKC Fit Dog Silver and her Canine Condition Fitness Level 3 in November. Thank you Karen & Don Wisler for a fun class.

Big Thank You!

From Sandy Irish

YABTC'S November After Thanksgiving Scent Trial is now over and we had many compliments again on a wonderful trial. Several members earned Novice or Advanced titles at our trial.

A special thanks goes to Kim Colella for her hours of secretary work to make things go smoothly. I encourage members to get Marla your brags!

A special thank you to ALL who worked at the trial in the various jobs, the Scent work Trial Committee who set up and took down everything after hours of working and to our wonderful kitchen crew.

Thank you all!

Mystery Dog Illness from “The Dog Food Advisor”

You may have read about the potentially fatal respiratory illness that's affected dogs across the country in recent weeks. Well, it's now spread to at least 14 states. They are:

- California
- Colorado
- Florida
- Georgia
- Idaho
- Illinois
- Indiana
- Maryland
- Massachusetts
- New Hampshire
- Oregon
- Rhode Island
- Vermont
- Washington

I don't want to cause panic but awareness of the illness can only be a good thing. That's why I've put together this story that lists the signs and symptoms and the current advice for dog parents: Mystery Dog Illness: What Is It And What Should I Do?

This tells you what signs to look for and what precautions you can take. I'm not a vet or an epidemiologist, so this article is just a summary of what experts have said. Things could change in the time it takes for you to read this email, so try to stay on top of the news.

As the word 'mystery' tells you, little is known for certain about the cause of the illness. However, it seems to be transmissible between dogs so there is a worry of it spreading further — thus the main piece of guidance is to avoid your dog mixing with other dogs where possible.

If you have any worries about your dog, please contact your vet. And please forward this email to any dog parents you know.

Stay safe.

KANSAS STATE VETERINARY DIAGNOSTIC LABORATORY

Mysterious Canine Respiratory Disease

To help determine the associated pathogen(s) involved in the canine respiratory disease circulating in some areas of the U.S., KSVDL is offering free Next Generation Sequencing testing through December 31st, 2023.

Submissions eligible for free testing can originate from veterinary practitioner submissions only and from cases where the practitioner suspects this new respiratory disease is involved.

Suitable samples:

- (5 gm) Tissue (Lung, Lymph node or Tonsil)
- Swabs (Nasal or Pharyngeal)
- Washes (Tracheal or BAL)

A gel bacterial swab is not acceptable.
Cotton tipped and/or wooden shaft swabs are not acceptable.

The report from KSVDL identifies the organism(s) found in the sample. These may or may not be the causative organism(s) associated with this case.

Clients must ask for MDL-0202 to participate in this offer.

If you have questions, please contact KSVDL Client Care at 866-512-5650 or clientcare@vet.k-state.edu.
